TWO PHYSICIANS SUED BY NEW BEDFORD LADY FOR $10,000 DAMAGES

TRIAL IS ON TODAY

Mrs. Lower Fell From Tree Breaking Bone in One Hip.

CLAIMS TREATMENT OF HURT NEGLECTED

Drs. Portz and Stephan Are Defendants in Big Court Suit

The trial of Dr. Portz of Kent, O., and Dr. Stephan of New Bedford who are defendants in a big $10,000 damage suit being brought by Mrs. Lucy Lower of New Bedford as a result of alleged malpractice, started in common pleas court Tuesday morning.

The case grew out of the alleged malpractice given Mrs. Lower at the time when she was suffering from a broken hip the result of a fall from a cherry tree. On July 11, 1910 Mrs. Lower fell from a tree while picking cherries. She claims that Dr. Stephan was called and later Dr. Portz of Kent was summoned to administer chloroform while the injured hip was being reduced. She claims that as a result of the physicians setting the ends of the broken bone incorrectly she has been made a hopeless cripple.

Mrs. Lower appeared in court walking on a pair of crutches.

Mrs. Lower is being represented by Atty Wheeler and Klein and Drs. Portz and Stephan are represented by Atty Merrell and Pomeroy.

The physicians claim that Mrs. Lower's present condition is due to her own negligence.

When the petit jury was called in Tuesday morning it was found necessary to draw an extra venire of ten names because of the inability of seven of the original venire to act on the jury. D. G. Snyder was excused on account of sickness, George Hahn was excused because of his hearing, which was bad; Arthur Feller, Cliff Beach, and Theophilus Van Kannel were out of the county; J. Q. Adams was dismissed by the judge. The name of the late George Balch who died last fall was in the venire. The special venire, composed of the following men, were ordered to report Jan. 18 for duty:

Chas. Guthrie, Clark-tp.
John Heft, Monroe
Chas. Spang, New Castle
D. O. C. Craig, Linton
Robert Gault, Pike

Former Sugar Creek Man Dies

Charles C. Lloyd, a former resident of Sugar Creek, died Monday in a Canton hospital from injuries he sustained a few weeks ago when he fell down a flight of stairs in Canton. He was well known in Sugar Creek and the surrounding country.

The Canton News-Democrat says: "Charles C. Lloyd former city clerk and for a number of years engaged in newspaper work in Canton died at noon Monday in Ingleside hospital from the effects of a fall received three weeks ago."

"He had been in poor health and, stricken with apoplexy fell down a flight of steps in East Tuscarawas street, fracturing his skull near the base of the brain."

LADIES' BOWLING CLUB THE LATEST

New Room Being Fitted Up For Installing Alleys.

The room in the Wisenbush building to be occupied by Wisenbush and Corder is being fitted up and everything made ready for the new bowling alleys which will be installed some time in February.

The room has been made larger in order to have space enough to place the alleys which will be about 80 ft. long. When the alleys are set up it is planned to organize teams among the Coshocton players and later on form a league with some of the teams from the surrounding towns. Special offers will be made to the young people and it is thought that there will be teams organized among the ladies of Coshocton.

A boxball alley will also be used in connection.

MINERS INSIST ON INCREASES

Meet in Indianapolis to Discuss the Wage Problem.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 16.—Delegates to the national convention of the United Mine Workers of America to the number of 1,300 today convened in the initial session of what promises to be one of the most important gatherings in the history of the organization.

The leading miners from every state are a unit in expressing a determination to demand an increased wage scale, but they differ radically in the amount that will be demanded, some of them wanting as high as 20 and others as low as 5 per cent advance.

The vast importance of the convention this year to the more than a quarter of a million union miners is largely in the fact that for the first time in the history of the organization the wage scale agreements in both the anthracite and bituminous mining fields will expire March 31, and new wage scale agreements will have to be negotiated before that time. This means that the convention will have to determine a scale for the central competitive bituminous field and make recommendations for the wage scale to be negotiated at the conference of the anthracite operators and miners.

Will Insist on Advance.

The miners will insist on an advance in the mining wage scale, because they say the cost of living has increased greatly in the last 10 years while their wages have remained the same under the award of the anthracite commission. It is expected that the anthracite miners will be supported in this demand for an increase by all of the members of the miners organizations, with all of their resources.

There is no longer any doubt as to the result of the election. According to the best obtainable information John P. White is re-elected president over Thomas L. Lewis, former president, by a majority of something like 10,000, and the majority of P. J. Hayes for re-election as vice president over Samuel Pascoe of Illinois is about the same.

THE OFFICIAL COUNT GIVES WASHINGTON WETS 15 PLURALITY

Marietta, Jan. 16.—The official vote was canvassed today for the recent Rose law election. The wets carry Washington county by the slim plurality of 15 votes.

The wets and dries each carried 20 precincts. The city of Marietta went wet by 845 and the county outside the city went dry by 830. The change is 1101 votes as the dries carried the county by 1386 three years ago.

MORE THAN TWO HUNDRED ATTENDED LAST NIGHT

Much Interest in Things Agricultural Is Manifested

INSTITUTE WILL CLOSE TONIGHT

Two State Lecturers Drop Many Good Points To Farmers

"Keep the boy on the farm" was the keynote struck by both the speakers, L. G. Spencer of Niles, O., and the Hon. A. A. Huber of Illinoisville at the evening session of the Walhonding Farmers' Institute Monday night. Both addresses were warmly received by a crowd which filled to capacity the Walhonding town hall where the sessions are being held.

The institute is one of the most successful that has ever been held in Coshocton county and judging from the enthusiasm that is being shown it is doing some good work among the farmers in the Walhonding valley. In spite of the fact that the thermometer stood near the zero mark Monday night and a blizzard was raging farmers drove for many miles to attend the evening session. It was estimated by Mr. Huber, one of the speakers, that there were about 200 people in attendance.

The Hopkins Concert Co. of Columbus is furnishing a splendid program of music at all the sessions. The concert company is composed of four young women all of them finished musicians and each a capable entertainer. Their programs are being highly appreciated.

The present officers of the institute are: John MacFarland, president; John G. Scott, vice president; D. C. Baker, secretary; William Lapp, treasurer.

President John MacFarland presides at all the meetings and his enthusiasm and congeniality goes much toward making the institute the success it is.

The morning and afternoon sessions were both interesting Monday. About 85 persons attended the morning session and close to 100 were at the afternoon session. Sessions are being held all day Tuesday. The evening session Tuesday will take the form of a concert by the Hopkins Concert Co. closing the institute.

L. G. Spencer of Niles, O., made his initial address at the evening session Monday. He took as his subject "The New Agriculture." He spoke of the wonderful advancement of the world has made in the last quarter and half century in every department of commerce, both on land and sea. He compared the railroads of today and the means of travel on the high seas to the methods in use half a century ago. He compared the method of agriculture in vogue half a century ago with that of today. There is no question, he said, but that the soil of Ohio was as fertile 25 years ago as any upon which the sun ever shined. Our forefathers farmed this land, he said, in a foolish, hazardous way and they had good results. But we today are facing an entirely different question. The result of this foolish method of agriculture is worn out and depleted farms.

We need a better educated farmer to bring good results from our farms, not only in Ohio but in all the other states as well.

He held up and landed the installing of agriculture in the schools. But because this changes the school system and necessarily results in an added expense some people are opposed to it. He promulgated a plan for installing a centralized school system in the state teaching the best methods of agriculture. But he said many men object to the expense it would incur.

He said he could remember when he was a boy how cheap it was to keep up a well regulated farm. Now you have from $500 to $1000 worth of tools on every well conducted farm instead of $25 worth as our fathers had 25 years ago.

If this is true in the operations on our farms and we do not hesitate at the expense, then why should we hesitate when the question comes up of (Continued On Page Two)

FINGER IS MASHED IN COUPLING

Miner Painfully Injured Tuesday Morning at Woods' Mines.

C. H. Wilson employed at the Garfield Woods coal mines south of the city was the victim of a painful accident Tuesday morning.

While working with several cars on the track his hand was caught in the coupling in such a manner that the little finger of the left hand was mashed to a pulp and his hand badly bruised. Wilson was at once brought to Coshocton and the injured finger was treated by Dr. Shaw in hopes of saving it. Wilson suffered intense pain and it is thought that unless other complications develop the injured finger may be saved from amputation.

CHURCH TEAMS TO CLASH FRIDAY EVE

The basket ball team of the M. E. church is holding practices every evening at Old Central hall preparatory to the game to be played with the first team of the Presbyterian church Friday evening.

WESTFALL LOSES HIS EYE-GLASSES

Raymond Westfall, owner and manager of the Mystic, is in quite a predicament. "Ray" has lost his eye-glasses. This morning Mr. Westfall was in a number of places of business on Main street, including the postoffice and while in one of those places took his glasses off so that he could see. He went out and has no idea where he left them. His ad. appears in the classified columns.

PHYSICIANS DON'T NEED TO FILE BIRTH RECORD

Columbus, O., Jan. 16.—Physicians are not required to file birth and death reports in Ohio. The supreme court today held unconstitutional the vital statistics law recently enacted by the state legislature and under which a Marion physician was arrested because he declined to file birth certificates.

Three other devices of sweeping importance were handed down by the court.

The court holds that the salary of firemen, policemen and other civil service employees cannot be raised or reduced, because they are appointed for life.

A wife may steal her husband "blind" and not be held, the court holding that it is no crime for a wife to steal from her husband, as she is a part owner in everything he possesses.

The validity of common law marriages was upheld, making such marriages legal and binding in the eyes of the law.

Screen Not Drawn; Bar Keep is Called

The proprietor of McGinn's saloon, Walnut street, was before the mayor Tuesday morning for a lecture and a reprimand. The screen in the place was not entirely pulled aside Monday night and obstructed a portion of the room. It was doubtless carelessness and not an intent to beat the law. The mayor gave notice that another similar offense, even if innocently done, would bring with it a stiff fine and sentence. So far there have been remarkably few abrasions of the regulation ordinance, and the general sentiment appears to be to comply with it to the letter.

He Frightened Her; She Wants Divorce

Because her husband treated her so cruelly that she grew afraid of him is one of the grounds for which Mrs. Della F. Collins is asking for a divorce from Chas. H. Collins. She filed her petition in common pleas court Tuesday morning through her attorney W. S. Merrell.

The couple were married on Dec. 31, 1910. They have no children. Mrs. Collins claims that immediately after they were married her husband began treating her cruelly and that after a while his threats became so menacing that she was frightened. She says that ever since their marriage Collins has refused to buy her clothing and all the necessities of life.

MAN AND WOMAN ON A JOY-RIDE HAVE A FIST-FIGHT, IT IS CLAIMED

ADOPT NEW METHOD

Buckeye State Soldiers to Practice Snap-Shooting.

Washington, Jan. 16.—Ours militiamen will be taught "snap-shooting," the method that made the Boer fire so deadly in the war against the British. This announcement was made by General A. B. Critchfield, the Buckeye state's representative on the national board for the promotion of rifle practice, after the board, in session here, had decided to eliminate the 200-yard stage in shoots to be conducted by it.

Instead of the old 200-yard event the marksmen will be required to approach the firing line with loaded rifles in the position of "trail arms." An eight-inch target will be exposed for three seconds in which the soldier must unlock his piece and fire. This performance will be repeated for 10 shots.

While General Oliver, assistant secretary of war, favors the holding of the national shoot at Camp Perry which he regards as the best range in the world, the orders require that the shoot of 1912 be held at Sparta, Wis. The Ohio shoot will be at Camp Perry.

FAMILY QUARREL ENDS IN ARREST

Lucy Wilhelm filed an affidavit in Squire Whimmer's court Tuesday forenoon charging her stepson, W. H. Wilhelm, with assault and battery. When arraigned before the squire Tuesday Wilhelm waived examination and asked to be bound over to the grand jury. His bond was fixed at $100. The arrest followed a family quarrel Monday night. It is said.

VENSIL TO TAKE HAND

Potter Girl And Tom Fouch May Both Be Jailed.

SAY BOTH HAD TOO MUCH BOOZE

Humane Officer is Investigating Cruelty to Livery Horse.

Roxy Potter was arrested and locked up Monday afternoon in the county jail by Chief Mape and Humane Officer Vensil is contemplating placing a charge against Tom Fouch for cruelty to a horse following an alleged joy ride in which the young people participated Monday afternoon and which ended in a fist fight. It is alleged, between the two persons at Pleasant Valley.

It is alleged that Fouch went to local livery barn Monday afternoon, hired a horse, saying he was going to take his wife to a neighboring village. Instead, it is said, Fouch went to the home of the Potter girl and the two started out for a "buggy ride." Before leaving for the Potter girl's home, it is said, Fouch left the buggy robe at his own home to permit it to "warm up" preparatory to starting the drive. When Fouch's wife found the robe, it is said she returned it to the liveryman, enraged because she was not the lucky one who was to take the ride.

It is said the couple drove south through the seven-mile drive south of Coshocton and "larked up" on booze. The girl, it is alleged, became drunk. When they were near Pleasant Valley, it is said, the horse was thrown and Fouch beat it cruelly. While the horse was on the ground, it is alleged, the girl and young Fouch engaged in a wordy war which ended by Fouch striking the girl in the face, according to one story told Humane Officer Vensil by an alleged eye witness. It is said Fouch made the girl leave the buggy while blood streamed from her nose and took another man in the buggy with him and started for Coshocton and made Fouch leave the rig. One of the men who is alleged to have seen the fight got in the buggy and drove to Coshocton with the Potter girl, while it is said Fouch "hoofed" it to town.

Later in the afternoon the police were notified that the Potter girl was getting loud and she was arrested. Further developments are expected within the next day or two.

OPERATION ON EVE A SUCCESS

J. W. Moore of this City Will Return Home This Week

J. W. Moore of this city who was operated upon in St. Luke hospital in Cleveland last week is recovering rapidly and will be home the last of the week. He submitted to an operation for the removal of a cataract on his right eye. For some time preceding the operation it was feared that perhaps the operation would affect the sight in that eye but the surgeons pronounced the operation highly successful and say the eye that was operated upon will be as strong as the other. Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Moore spent Sunday in Cleveland with Mr. Moore.

GIFT HORSE WAS TOO WEAK FOR SAM

For about half an hour Monday afternoon Sam Layton was the happiest man in Coshocton county. A friend of his presented him with a horse. It didn't cost him a penny. No wonder he was happy. But if anyone had seen him a couple hours after he had been presented with the animal Layton could not have been called happy. On the contrary, he felt like making the air around him blue. For he had not gone far a mile away from the home of his friend leading the horse behind him when the animal drowned to the ground and couldn't get up. Layton had to have a friend shoot the animal for him.

INSTITUTE

teaching our children the real system of agriculture.

The centralized school system is much better for the young farmer than the old sub-district system. The boys and girls must know the real science of agriculture. It is the foundation of all other channels of progress. It takes more knowledge to carry on farming than any other business.

But how about our old fellows? They can't leave their farms and go to college. But they have the agricultural press. The speaker told of the good that is being done by this great department of the public press. He said that the farmers who are too old to go to school have the expert stations. He said all the farmers should avail themselves of the opportunities that are presented through the expert stations as a medium. He also pointed out the state agricultural department in the state university and told of its advantages.

He said today we have poorer social conditions on the farm than we had 40 or 50 years ago. Then we had better organized churches. We had libraries. We met every week and discussed many questions. He asked if the older folks still remembered the old-fashioned husking bee which used to be held. Then a man who lived miles away was our neighbor. He mentioned the paring bee and the quilting bee. But he said that he was glad to say that there is one institution in Ohio that is doing such good and that is the grange. He dwelt for some time on the qualities of the grange.

The next thing we need, he said, the farmer must enter more earnestly into the questions of the people. In this country farmers form 10 percent of the population and represent 40 percent of the state's wealth. Yet today there is not a farmer in the senate and in the lower house there are only fourteen. There are in Ohio 20,000 lawyers and they were represented by 11 members. We have 400,000 farmers and only 11 are in the legislative department.

We have been trying for the last few years to get some legislation bettering the agriculture of the state, but each time the bills were presented they were voted down. If you want to be represented vote for the man who will represent you.

The most important thing in agriculture today is the young boy and girl. We have a greater crop growing up in Ohio than cattle, sheep or horses. If a farmer has a fine horse or cow he will ask you to come out and see it. But he has usually something that should be much more important. That is the young man and woman on the farm. The boys and girls should be well prepared. If prepared they will always find some work with good compensation. But the young man who would succeed, he said, must pick out some one thing to do and do it well. But it makes no difference how well you know a thing unless you start with a clean moral life you will be a failure. He told of the evils of the cigarette, of its effects on the young mind and of the influence it has in keeping a young man from gaining his goal of success. He also talked of the evils of drink. The young man of today who wants to make a success in any profession must let all these things alone, he said.

In no country in the world is the young woman of today as highly honored as she is in Ohio. Yet you will find in every community those who are frivolous. They think of nothing but pleasure—society and pink teas. The young woman is going to be an important factor in this new era. Will they live a life filled with happiness and capped by success or will they fall by the wayside and fail?

The Hon. A. A. Huber of Hecks-ville, O., and a member of the Ohio State legislature, made the closing address.

HIS ECZEMA GONE AND BOILS CURED

Ecze-ma Began When Three Weeks Old. Arms, Shoulders and Breast a Solid Scab. Boils Broke Out During Teething. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and He Was the Picture of Health.

"My son was about three weeks old when I noticed a break-out on his cheeks, from which a watery substance oozed. A short time after, his arms, shoulders and breast broke out also, and in a few days became a solid scab. I became alarmed, and called our family physician who at once pronounced the disease eczema. The little fellow was so miserable that I was almost driven to despair. For about three months he was almost a solid scab. By the end of that time he became a picture of health. His complexion was so fine and beautiful, and he was so full of life, that I had been afraid that he would never be well, and I feel that I owe a great deal to the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Prominent Doctor's Best Prescription Easily Mixed at Home.

Take these two ingredients home and put them into a half pint of good whiskey. Shake the bottle and take a tablespoonful before each meal and at bed-time. This is said to be the quickest and best remedy known to the medical profession for rheumatism and back-ache. Good results come after the first dose. If your druggist does not have Toris compound in stock he will get it for you in a few hours from his wholesale house. Don't be influenced to take a patent medicine instead of this. Insist on having the genuine Toris compound in the original one ounce, sealed, yellow package (hundreds of the worst cases were cured here-by this prescription last winter).

REVERE HOUSE IS SWEEP BY FLAMES

Fireman Loses Life in Disastrous Boston Fire.

Boston, Jan. 16.—Fire early today practically destroyed the Revere House, in Bowdoin square, one of Boston's most famous hotels.

One life is known to have been lost, and it is feared that there may be bodies in the ruins. Three hundred guests were sleeping in the hotel when the flames were discovered in the rotunda, a dining room on the ground floor.

Firemen, policemen and private citizens rushed through the building dragging the guests from their beds and hurrying them to the street.

The dead man was a fireman, who fell from a 65-foot ladder and landed on a picket fence.

Woman's Happiness

The highest point of woman's happiness is reached only through motherhood, in the clasping of her child within her arms. Yet the mother-to-be is often fearful of nature's ordeal and shrinks from the suffering incident to its consummation. But for nature's ill and discomforts nature provides remedies, and in Mother's Friend is to be found a medicine of great value to every expectant mother. It is an only emulsion for external application, composed of ingredients which act with beneficial and soothing effect on those portions of the system involved. It is intended to prepare the system for the crisis, and thus relieve, in great part, the suffering through which the mother usually passes. The regular use of Mother's Friend will repay any mother in the comfort it affords before, and the helpful restoration to health and strength it brings about after baby comes.

Mother's Friend is for sale at drug stores. Write for our free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.

DELEGATES KICK ON COMMITTEES

Say Scope of Constitutional Convention Is Limited.

Columbus, O., Jan. 16.—After a recess from last Thursday, Ohio's constitutional convention resumed work today. If the rules committee reports before this evening's adjournment it is predicted that Professor George W. Knight of Ohio State university will lead the fight from the floor against the list of standing committees which the rules committee has adopted. The fight is expected to open a discussion which will bring up for decision the whole question of the scope of the work of the convention.

Election Laws Slighted.

The other conventions, 10 in number, had committees on bill of rights, on executive departments, on legislative department, on education, on counties, townships and villages, on militia and kindred subjects, none of which is provided for in the report of the Ohio rules committee. In a number of these state conventions there was a committee on elective franchise.

Professor Knight has collected data showing that every state constitutional convention of the last 40 years has had a broader scope of committees except the New Hampshire convention, one of only 20 delegates, which considered most everything in committee of the whole.

The rules committee has provided a committee of 21 on short ballot and a second committee of 21 on woman's suffrage, but has no committee to consider other changes in the election and voting franchise laws. No provision is made for a committee to consider election of United States senators or primary elections.

Make Plea For Appropriation.

ENDLESS TROUBLE

Follows an Attack of the Grip Unless the Blood Is Built Up and Purified.

Few diseases so shatter the health as the grip. Its victims all tell the same story. They are left despondent, tired, faint and wretched in every way. They have no appetite, ambition or strength, cannot sleep, and suffer from headaches, backaches and nervousness. In this weakened condition lies the real danger of the grip. The body falls an easy prey to bronchitis, pneumonia and even consumption. Nearly every form of nervous trouble has also been known to follow an attack. The work of the grip is so complete that many of its victims date their years of sickness from a single attack.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People give the quickest and most thorough relief from the after-effects of the grip. They build up and purify the blood, drive the poisons out of the system and give strength and tone to the entire body. They make the body able to resist the dangerous diseases which follow an attack.

Mr. M. D. Rowland, of No. 123 Allegan street, East Lansing, Mich., says: "After an attack of the grip my stomach was left in a very bad condition. My appetite was poor and what little I did eat my stomach could not digest. After each meal I had terrible pains and cramps which could be relieved only by vomiting. I was getting in bad shape and worked only part of the time. I doctored for over a year and was relieved for a time but would soon feel as bad as ever. I noticed in a paper that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People were good for my trouble and gave them a trial. I was helped after taking them a while and finally entirely cured. The cure must be permanent as I haven't had a return of my trouble in any form."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are the most direct cure for all diseases due to impure or impoverished blood, as anemia, chlorosis, rheumatism, weakness following fevers or operations and a general run-down condition due to overwork and worry.

A valuable booklet, "Diseases of the Blood," containing helpful information will be sent upon request.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50c. per box; six boxes, $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

Senate Opens Doors

Will Discuss President's Peace Treaties In Public

Washington, Jan. 16.—The senate, in executive session, by a vote of 58 to 8, decided to debate the pending arbitral treaties, or so-called "peace" treaties, with Great Britain and France in open senate. This conclusion was reached after a stormy debate in which the president and secretary of state were severely criticised. Senator Lodge led the fight for keeping the debate behind closed doors, while Senator Rayner and others demanded that the doors of the senate be open and that the debate proceed publicly.

House Clears Calendar.

Washington, Jan. 16.—The house proceeded to the consideration of bills on the "motion to discharge calendar." The Payne bill, proposing the creation of a permanent tariff board; the Madden bill, providing for a physical valuation of railroads, and the bill increasing the pensions of widows and orphans of deceased civil war veterans did not come to a vote because of the opposition of the Democratic majority.

Miss Grey says, rosy cheeks and ruby lips are due to good health and a good digestion; every lady wants both; just start today and take a very small dose of Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea after each meal and at bed times; you'll wonder at the results. 35c. Tea or Tablets.

PASTOR RUSSELL'S SUNDAY SERMON

Gen. Hall and Party
In The Philippines

Minla, Jan. 14.—Gen. W. P. Hall, second in command of the U. S. Army and at one time Military Governor of the Philippines, is here in company with Pastor Russell, Prof. F. H. Robinson, Dr. L. W. Jones, J. T. D. Pyles, E. W. V. Kuehn and R. B. Maxwell, the special committee of the Foreign Missions' Investigation, appointed by the International Bible Students Association. They were heartily welcomed and given every facility for noting civil and missionary activities amongst the Filipinos. Pastor Russell gave two addresses today to large audiences, chiefly Americans. We report his address from the text, "Thy Kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth, as it is done in heaven," (Matt. vi. 10.) He said:

Many of us have learned to appreciate a Republican form of Government as the very highest type of civil administration. I trust that I am not one whit behind the most patriotic of you in my appreciation of the great Government of the United States, which many of us believe is the noblest that has yet risen amongst men. Nevertheless, the Bible teaches that Messiah's reign will be that of a Monarchy. Additionally, it will be most autocratic—theocratic, the will of its subjects will not be consulted in the slightest particular.

At first, in alarm we are ready to say, Would not that be a most dangerous condition of things? Could any royal family, however noble and generous, be entrusted with such autocratic power without fear of its being misused for the enslavement of the people and for the aggrandizement of the rulers? Have we not learned this in the history of the past six thousand years?

Yes, my dear friends, I heartily accede to all this, but when I shall describe to you the nature of the Kingdom that is to be established and its personnel, all your fears will assuredly vanish.

Scripturally, it is described as the Fifth Universal Empire of earth. I remind you of the Divinely inspired dream of King Nebuchadnezzar, as interpreted by the Prophet Daniel. The great image of Daniel ii. 31, was described as representing the four successive Universal Empires of earth—Babylon, Medo Persia, Greece and Rome. No fifth Universal Empire has been possible; hence, the failure of Napoleon and of Paganism to accomplish their intentions.

The Pastor declared that the present governments of Europe represent the ten toes of Nebuchadnezzar's image, and expressed the belief that very soon they will be smitten, in a great time of trouble, as outlined in this prophecy. The trouble will entirely sweep away all present human governments, and the Kingdom of Messiah, taking their place, will gradually, during a thousand years, fill the whole earth.

This, in Nebuchadnezzar's vision, was pictured in the stone taken out of the mountain without hands, miraculously, which smote the image in its feet and then became, itself, a great Mountain Kingdom, and filled the whole earth.

Anticipating thoughts in the minds of his hearers, Pastor Russell claimed that Christendom has been astray for some time on this point, that we have declared Christ's Kingdom as already existing amongst men—quite contrary to the Bible. The Kingdoms of Europe, which are called Christendom, which means Christ's Kingdom. But alas! said the Pastor, how untrue! The Kingdoms claim upon their coins to be reigning by the grace of God, yet the Bible says that they are "kingdoms of this world," and that the great ruler is Satan, the Prince of this world, "who now worketh in the children of disobedience," and these, outnumbering the children of obedience, the rule of the world is accordingly contrary to Divine order.

Nevertheless, the Pastor claimed that the church is the Kingdom of Messiah in an embryonic state. It is the Kingdom of heaven suffering violence, as Jesus said, (Matt. xi. 12.) The King suffered violence, His faithful Apostles suffered violence, and all of His faithful followers since then have suffered violence. This lesson, to endure violence as good soldiers, is one of the tests of loyalty upon the called and chosen, who, proving faithful, may become joint-heirs with Jesus in His Messianic Kingdom.

As the glorified Jesus is to be the great King, the great Priest and the great Judge of the world during the thousand years of His glorious reign, so the elect Church, gathered from every nation, people, kindred and tongue, are to be under-priests, under-kings and subordinate judges. But the great work of Christ and the church will be one. The Kingly office will be for the ruling, controlling and subduing, with authority and power; the Priestly Office will be exercised for the blessing, encouragement, instruction and assistance of all who will avail themselves of the glorious privileges of that time to become perfect men and to attain everlasting life—all that was lost in Eden and that was redeemed at Calvary.

The title of Judge is a comprehensive one; it includes the giving of a trial as well as the passing and execution of the sentence at the close. The trial day for the world will be a thousand years long. St. Paul says, "God hath appointed a day in which He will judge the world in righteousness." He also advises us, "Know ye not that the saints shall judge the world?" (Cor. vi. 2.) This day of Judgment, as St. Peter shows, will be a thousand years long, for "a day with the Lord is as a thousand years." (II Pet. iii. 8.) It will be a glorious Day of opportunity for the world, when the knowledge of God shall reach every creature. "All the blind eyes shall be reopened and all the deaf ears shall be unstopped," (Isa. xxxv. 5.) Only the "wickedly wicked" will be destroyed in the Second Death.

Ultimately, every creature in heaven and earth shall be heard praising Him that sitteth upon the Throne, and the Lamb forever. Thenceforth there shall be no more sighing, crying, or dying.

CASCARET'S CLEANSE RIVER AND BOWELS

No Biliousness, Headache, Sick, Sour Stomach, Indigestion, Coated Tongue or Constipation.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret tonight will give you a thorough cleansing inside and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10 cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then to keep their stomach, liver and bowels regulated, and never know a miserable moment. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

clever ruse he prevents the other's letter from reaching her and proposes in the meantime.

"Santa Caralina, Magic Isles of the Pacific" was also a good picture of travel.

The oft-repeated question, "Alma Where Do You Live?" is to be answered at the 6th-st. theatre when Joseph M. Weber's production of the Americanized version of this popular musical farce is to be seen for an engagement of one night only, Wednesday, Jan. 21. This play which has a season's run in New York at Weber's theatre was originally a French play by Paul Herve and Jean Brizet, was translated into German and in this language was presented at Adolf Philip's theatre, where it received much unfavorable criticism on account of its suggestiveness. Joseph M. Weber, its present producer, witnessed it and seeing possibilities for it in English, had it Americanized by George V. Hobart, whom it is said has done his work very cleverly, omitting the salaciousness, but retaining all of the humor of the piece, which together with the attractive music has made it one of the most enjoyable entertainments of its kind now before the public.

The Authors' Producing Company, of which John Cort is president and Charles Klein general producing director, will present the latter's greatest play, "The Gamblers," at the 6th-st. theatre soon.

"The Missouri Girl." Of all the attractions which have visited us in the past decade, none is more popular with the theatre-going public than "The Missouri Girl," a welcome, pretty domestic comedy. "The Missouri Girl." Its author and manager, Mr. Fred Raymond, feels justly proud of its unbounded success as a work of dramatic art, years of popular favor, and wonderful drawing powers. It is a faithful picture of American country life, with a healthful and invigorating atmosphere. In the construction of this truly successful play Mr. Raymond has given to the American stage two character de-

ACHIEVEMENTS OF A STATESMAN
Among the accomplishments of President Taft are: The general arbitration program (which now embraces Great Britain, France, Germany and the Netherlands, with Japan apparently ready to respond to overtures), the knowledge of conditions in Mexico which prompted the taking of a strong position in order to avert a serious situation between that country and ours, the successful prosecution of many trusts, the friendly and successful intervention in South America to prevent a collision between two nations, the correction of corrupt practices at the port of New York and, in general, the rehabilitation of the customs service, the expedition of work on the Panama canal, the wiping out of the postal deficit, the message to congress in support of conservation measures, the appointments to the Supreme Court, the establishment of a postal savings bank system, the successful advocacy of a bill which brings the railroads more nearly under governmental control, the reorganization of the navy—these, and the earnest effort to have the congress readjust the tariff, ought to convince the people that the president has been wisely and industriously and courageously employ in projecting and promoting practical measures for the general good. Compare it with the actual achievements of a like period in any other administration!

Come With the Crowds to "The Busy Store."
"YOUR MONEY BACK FOR THE ASKING"

SAGE OF THE AGE.
Shuffle up; cold wave coming.
Aha, the old ten-foot comforter is again around the neck.
Back to the bob jumping days.
The picture shows are going some.
Judge Nicholas can "warm" them some, even if it is cold.
Chief, chief! Better take it as it is offered!
Walhonding has the crowd these days.
How about a new Poor House?
A man slipped on Main street yesterday and sprained his New Year's resolution.
And a girl ripped her leap year chances.
My, but such slippery days.
Smile, even if you can't be happy.
Washington county is just camp and that's all.
Face might freeze this weather.
Look for your name tonight and get two free theatre tickets.

George Mulligan, son of Fran Mulligan was painfully hurt this morning by jumping off a coal house. He was not rendered unconscious, but suffered so that it was thought that his spine was hurt.
Hopocate collogo has closed its doors for the present, the attendance of pupils at the winter term not being sufficient to justify the continued labor of the teachers.
Marshal Goodwin, of Dennison, passed through the city Friday with Frank Milton, who was being taken to the Columbus workhouse to serve 110 days. Milton stole in order that he might be sent to prison thus, affording him food and shelter.

A large number of Coshocton people drove to Warsaw Saturday evening to attend a dance. They could not go in sleds and made the trip in carryalls.
The police have been unable to learn anything of the man who jumped from Payhandle train 3 Friday night. They believe he escaped injury.

A HEALTHY, HAPPY OLD AGE
May be promoted by those who gently cleanse the system, now and then, when in need of a laxative remedy, by taking a desertsopful of the ever refreshing, wholesome and truly beneficial Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, which is the only family laxative generally approved by the most eminent physicians, because it acts in a natural, strengthening way and warms and tones up the internal organs without weakening them. It is equally beneficial for the very young and the middle aged, as it is always efficient and free from all harmful ingredients. To get its beneficial effects it is always necessary to buy the genuine, bearing the name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package.

Confesses to Police
Brother of Murdered Woman
an Says He Paid Slayers.
Greenville, O., Jan. 16.—Henry Hagelgans, one of the three men arrested and charged with the murder of Miss Fannie Hagelgans at Orient in the spring of 1909, has confessed that he had paid Edward and Daniel McKinley, the other prisoners, the sum of $825 for the killing of his sister. Hagelgans is a farmer living in Delaware county.
Hagelgans admitted that he had paid the McKinleys money after he knew they had killed his sister, but said he did it in fear of his own life. They had threatened to kill him, he said. Hagelgans also admitted that he had paid Detective Tom Foster of Columbus $1,500 "to find out who the murderers were" after the McKinleys had told him they did it.
Edward McKinley's daughter, whose information to the police led to the arrest of her father, uncle and Hagelgans, is the wife of Alonzo Roebuck, a relief agent on the C. & O. between Cincinnati and Chicago. She is now at her father's home at Miller's Station.
When David McKinley was confronted by Hagelgans in the county jail he exclaimed, "Why do you tell a lie like that when a man's life is in danger?" He loudly protested that neither he nor his brother Edward had murdered Miss Hagelgans or her hired man, Frank Colt, to misdirect suspicion.
Fire Endangers Many Lives.
Cleveland, O., Jan. 16.—Fire which broke out in the inventory building occupied by Browning, King & Company and B. R. Baker-Baum & Company, clothiers, and the Miller Millinery company, in Euclid avenue, in the heart of the retail district, endangered the lives of scores of persons and caused $200,000 loss.

OUR AUDITOR HAS AN ALIBI ON CHICKEN RIOT
According to the Newark papers one of the men arrested Sunday there for taking part in the big cooking main, was "a county auditor from an adjoining county." Auditor Mowrey has an alibi. Not only was he at home Sunday, and at church, but declares the only way he cares for chickens is fried.
It is Wall street's rueful opinion that the Sherman law and the Sherman definition of war are not very far apart.
RECORD OF A GREAT MEDICINE
Doctors Could Not Help Mrs. Templeton—Regained Health through Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.
Hooper, Nebraska.—"I am very glad to tell how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped me. For five years I suffered from female troubles so I was scarcely able to do my work. I took doctors' medicines and used local treatments but was not helped. I had such awful bearing down pains and my back was so weak I could hardly walk and could not ride. I often had to sit up nights to sleep and my friends thought I could not live long. At my request my husband got me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I commenced to take it. By the time I had taken the seventh bottle my health had returned and I began doing my washing and was a well woman. At one time for three weeks I did all the work for eighteen boarders with no signs of my old trouble returning. Many have taken your medicine after seeing what it did for me. I would not take $1000 and be where I was. You have my permission to use my name if it will aid anyone."—Mrs. SUSIE TEMPLETON, Hooper, Nebraska.
The Pinkham record is a proud and peerless one. It is a record of constant victory over the obstinate ills of woman—ills that deal out despair.
It is an established fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored health to thousands of such suffering women. Why don't you try it if you need such a medicine?

SURELY BREAKS THE MOST SEVERE COLD IN SEVERAL HOURS

There is not one grain of quinine in Paper's Cold Compound, which, when taken every two hours, until three consecutive doses are taken, will surely end the gripe and break up the most severe cold, either in the head, chest, back, stomach or limbs. It promptly relieves the most miserable headache, dullness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, catarrhal affections, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic twinges. Paper's Cold Compound is the result of three years' research at a cost of more than fifty thousand dollars, and contains no quinine, which we have conclusively demonstrated is not effective in the treatment of colds or gripe. Take this harmless Compound as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine made anywhere else in the world which will cure your cold or end gripe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25-cent package of Paper's Cold Compound, which any druggist in the world can supply.

Governor Speaks on "Democracy" Before Milwaukee Club

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 16.—Governor Harmon of Ohio paid Wisconsin his visit, and delivered an address on "Democracy" at the auditorium before the Jefferson club. He is very optimistic for his party's success in the presidential election. A unique phase of the reception was the assurance given Governor Harmon by the progressive Democrats, or Wilson men, that while they would do their best to nominate Wilson, they would do their best for a united Democracy for Harmon if he should be the nominee.

Edict is Promised.
London, Jan. 16.—The correspondent of the Times at Peking, telegraphing to his paper, says that within three or four days a momentous edict will be issued in China which will go much further than has been expected. It will not only announce the abdication of the reigning family, but will decree the establishment of a republican form of government for China, the people to elect a president. The belief is that this will cause the republic to be guarded by the people.

Shanghai, Jan. 16.—An armistice has been arranged to last for a fortnight. The conditions are that neither side will attack until ordered.

PLANCON NOTED SINGER, COMING

Quite the musical event of the year comes to Coshocton next Monday night, Jan. 22, when the Alda Quartet appears at the M. E. church, as a number of the Peoples Lecture Course. The fact that the noted baritone, Pei Plancon, formerly of the Metropolitan grand opera house, New York, is a member is ample attest of the unusual excellence of the organization. Plancon and Emma James, who sing in Coshocton tonight, sang together in many operas. The other members are of equal celebrity and excellence.

The lecture course is behind financially this year to the extent of about $75, and the remaining members of the course must do unusually well to bring them even on the year. The organization is formed not for profit; if any year shows a profit, the next year is made much higher class. Thus a year ago the course had a profit of $43, and contract for a $190 better course for this year. The Alda quartet should test the seating capacity of the church auditorium.

TELLS WHY HE IGNORED TAFT

Hitchcock Says His Intentions Were All Right.

Washington, Jan. 16.—Postmaster General Frank H. Hitchcock made a hurried trip to the White House in response to a summons from President Taft, who was somewhat anxious for an explanation of his conduct in having announced, without first having consulted him, that he would recommend to congress the taking over by the United States government of all the telegraph lines of the country. Mr. Hitchcock replied that he had intended to confer with Mr. Taft on the subject, but after having made arrangements for publication was hurriedly called out of town. He recalled to Mr. Taft's mind that he had discussed the government ownership question with him a year ago, when he (Hitchcock) had embodied it in a preliminary draft of his annual report. President Taft accepted Mr. Hitchcock's explanation and the talk of an immediate break between them has been allayed. It remains, however, for President Taft still to say whether he will accept or reject Postmaster General Hitchcock's recommendation for government ownership of telegraph lines. Everything in President Taft's record of utterances indicates that he will reject it. He has declared repeatedly, against the government ownership idea as applied to the railroads of the country on the ground that it would place too great a power in the hands of the president.

Action Was Delayed.
After Postmaster General Hitchcock's conference with President Taft the White House issued a statement which obviously was intended to help Mr. Hitchcock out of an embarrassing situation. At the same time President Taft scrupulously refrained from committing himself in any way in the statement in regard to the Hitchcock proposition. Here is the statement:

"A recommendation of the postmaster general that it would be well for the government to buy the telegraph lines and incorporate them in the postoffice system appeared in an earlier annual report submitted by him to the president. After some discussion it was decided, at the suggestion of the president, to postpone reference to the matter to another year and not to bring it forward then because of the recommendation of many other important changes, including the postal savings bank and the parcels post. These, if adopted, would take up all the energy of the postal department in making the necessary changes. The postmaster general intended to bring this matter to the attention of the president before the publication in advance of this part of his report. He had made preparation for publication, but was suddenly called out of town without having done so. His conclusion as to the wisdom of taking over the telegraph lines has been reached only after a full investigation and consideration. As the report containing the recommendation has not been submitted to the president, it has not yet been considered by him or by the cabinet with a view to presenting it to congress as an administration measure."

Mrs. Wm. Long went to Cleveland today for a few days' visit with relatives and friends.

The Padre himself succumbs to the disease while the Don lives to repent and relieve where lies the victory of death.

A Splendid Hazard

By HAROLD MacGRATH

Copyright, 1910, by Bobbs-Merrill Company

"Suppose we inspect it after lunch," suggested Fitzgerald.

"It has been done," said the admiral. Outwardly he was still skeptical, but a doubt was forming in his mind.

"It will do no harm to try it again," said Breitmenn.

If Fitzgerald noted the subdued excitement in the man's voice he charged it to the moment.

"Take my word for it," avowed the admiral, "you will find nothing. Bring the coffee into the library," he added to the butler.

The logs were taken out of the fireplace, and as soon as the smoke cleared the admiral gave the order of the chimney's thorough going over. They could see the blue sky away up above. The chimney was large, but far too small for any human being to enter down it. The mortar between the bricks seemed for the most part undisturbed. Breitmenn made the first discovery of any importance. Just above his height, standing in the chimney itself, he saw a single brick projecting beyond its mates. He reached up and shook it. It was loose. He wrenched it out and came back into the light.

"See! Nothing less than a chisel could have cut the mortar that way. Miss Kilgrew is right. He went back and with the aid of the tongs poked into the cavity. The wall of bricks was four deep, yet the tongs went through. This business had been done from the other side.

"Well," exclaimed the admiral, for once at loss for a proper phrase. "You see, father? I was right. Now, what can it mean? Who is digging out the bricks, and for what purpose? And how with the alarms all over the house, to account for the footprints on the floor?"

"It is quite likely that something is hidden in the chimney had some one knows that it is worth hunting for. This chimney is the original, I should judge," Fitzgerald addressed this observation to the admiral.

"Never been touched during my time or my father's. But we can soon find out. I'll have a man up here. If there is anything in the chimney that ought not to be there he'll dig it out and save our midnight visitor any further trouble."

"Why not wait a little while?" Fitzgerald ventured. "With Breitmenn and me in the house we might trap the man."

"A good scheme!"

"He comes from the outside somewhere; from the cellar probably. Let us try the cellar," Breitmenn urged this with a gesture of his hands.

"There'll be sport," said Fitzgerald. "The coffee was cold in the cups when they returned to it. The cellar, as far as any one could learn, was free from any signs of recent invasion. It was puzzling.

"And the servants?" Breitmenn intimated.

"They have been in the family for years." The admiral shook his head convincingly. "I ask your pardon, my dear, my ears are not so keen as might be. I'm an old blockhead to think that you were having an attack of ghosts. But we'll solve the riddle shortly, and then we shan't have any trouble with our alarm bells," with a significant glance at Fitzgerald. "Well, Mr. Breitmenn, suppose we take a look at the work? Laura! you show Mr. Fitzgerald the gardens. The view from the terrace is excellent."

Fitzgerald stood silent, musing at the girl's side. To dwell in a haven like this—no care, no worry, no bother of grubbing about in one's pockets for overlooked coins, no flush of excitement!

"You must think me an odd girl."

"Pray why?"

"By the manner in which I brought you here."

"On the contrary, you are one of the few women I ever met who know something about scoring a good joke. Didn't your friend, Mrs. Coldfield, know my mother? And wasn't your father a great friend of my father's? As for being odd, what about me? I believe I stood on the corner and tried to sell plaster casts just to win a foolish club wager."

"Men can jest that way with impunity, but a woman may not. Still, I really couldn't help acting the way I did," with a tinkle in her voice and a twinkle in her eyes.

"Convention is made up idiotic laws. I suppose that's why I am always happy to leave convention behind, to be sent to the middle of Africa, to Patagonia or sign an agreement to go to the north pole."

"The north pole? Have you been to the arctic?"

"No, but I expect to go up in June with an Italian explorer."

"Isn't it terribly lonely up there?"

"It can't be worse than the Sahara or our own Death Valley. One extreme is as bad as the other. Some time I hope your father will take me along on one of those treasure hunts. I should like to be in the finding of a pirate ship. It would make a boy out of me again."

His eyes were very handsome when he smiled. Boy? she thought. He was scarce more than that now.

"Pirates' gold? What a lure it has been, is and will be! Blood money, h-r-r! I can see no pleasure in touching it. But humanity has gone on. The pirate is no more, and the highwayman is a thing to laugh at."

"Thanks to railways and steamships. It is beautiful here."

"We are nearly always here in the summer. In the winter we cruise. But this winter we remained at home. It was splendid! The snow was deep, and often I joined the village children on their toboggans. I made father ride down once. He grumbled about making a fool of himself. After the first slide I couldn't keep him off the hill. He wants to go to St. Moritz next winter." She laughed joyously.

"I shall take the arctic trip," he said to himself irreverently.

"Let us go and pick some apple blossoms. They just such a little while, and they are so pretty on the table. So you were in Napoleon's tomb that day? I have cried over the king of Rome's toys. Did Mr. Breitmenn receive those scars in battle?"

"Oh, no! It was a phase of his student life in Munich. But he has been under fire. He has had some hard luck." He wanted to add, "Poor devil!"

"You fought with Greece?"

"Yes."

"How that country always rouses our sympathy! Isn't there a little too much poetry and not enough truth about it?"

"There is. I fought with the Greeks because I disliked them less than the Turks."

"And Mr. Breitmenn?"

He smiled. "He fought with the Turks to chastise Greece, which he loves."

"What adventures you two must have had! To be on opposing sides like that!"

"Opposing newspapers. The two angles of vision made our copy interesting. There was really no romance about it. It was purely a business transaction. We offered our lives and our pencils for a hundred a week and our expenses. Rather sordid side to it, eh? And a fourth, rate order or two."

"You were decorated?"

"I am sure it was for bravery."

"Don't you believe it. The king of Greece and the sultan both considered the honor conferred upon us as good advertising."

"You are laughing."

"Well, war in the Balkans is generally a laughing matter. Sounds brutal, I know, but it is true."

"I know," gaily. "You are concurred and are trying to make me believe that you are modest."

"A bullseye!"

"And this Mr. Breitmenn has been decorated for valor? And yet today he becomes my father's private secretary. The two do not connect."

"May I ask you to mention nothing of this to him? It would embarrass him. I had no business to bring him into it."

She grew meditative, brushing her lips with the blossoms. "He will be something of a mystery. I am not overfond of mysteries outside of book covers."

"There is really no mystery. But it is human for a man in his position to wish to bury his past greatness."

"By and by the sun touched the southwest shoulder of the hill, and the two strolled back to the house."

From his window Breitmenn could see them plainly.

"Curse those scars!" he murmured, striking with his fist the disfigured cheek which upon a time had been a source of pride and honor. "Curse them!"

CHAPTER VIII.
JULY DRESS FOR DINNER.

BREITMANN watched them as long as he could. There was no jealousy in his heart, but there was bitterness, discontent, a savage self-pitying. He was genuinely sorry that this young woman was so pretty. Still, had she the graces of Calypso, he must have come. She would distract him, and he desired at that time distraction least of all diversions. Concentration and singleness of purpose—upon these two attributes practically hung his life. How strangely fate had stepped with him! What if there had not been that advertisement for a private secretary? How then should he have gained a footing in this house? Well, here he was, and speculation was of no value, save in a congratulatory sense. The fly in the amber was the presence of the young American, Fitzgerald, shrewd and clever, might stumble upon something. Well, till against that time!

"Pirates' gold!" His laughter broke forth, not loudly, but deeply, fired by a broad and ready sense of humor—a perilous gift for a man who is seeking fine hazards. It was droll; it was even fantastic. To cruise about the world in search of pirate treasures, as if there remained a single island, shore, promontory, known to have been the haunt of pirates which had not been dug up and dug up again. And here, under the very hand—He struck his palms. "Why not?"

He ran to the window. The sleek white yacht lay tugging at her cables like an eager hound in the leash. "Seaworthy from stem to stern. Why not? No better cloak than this. I may not make you a good secretary, admiral, but the gods propitious, I can, if needs may, take you treasure hunting. It will be a fine stroke. Is it possible that fortune begins to smile on me at last? Well, I have had the patience to wait. The hour has come, and fortune shall not find me laggard. It has been something to wait as I have, never to have spoken, never to have forgotten. They have even tried to drive me to crime. Wait, fools, wait!"

He drew his arms, tightly over his heaving breast, for he was deeply moved, while over his face came that indefinable light which, at times, illuminates the countenance of a great man. It came and went, as a flash of lightning betrays the oncoming storm. The chimney! His heart missed a beat. He had forgotten the chimney. The reaction affected him like a blow. A snarl twisted his mouth. What was the chimney to any other man? Only he of all men knew. And yet here was some one stealthily at work, forestalling him, knocking the bottom out of his great dream. There was nothing pleasant in the growing expression in his face. It was the tiger, waking. There could be only one way.

Swiftly he dashed to his trunk, knelt and examined the lock, unscrewed it and took out the documents more precious to him than the treasures of a hundred Captain Kidds. Instantly he returned to the window. Nothing was missing. But here was something he had never noticed before. On the face of the sill of parchment—a diagram, dim and faded—was an oily thumb mark. The oil from the lock, nothing more. Doubtless he himself had touched it. How many times had he found an unknown touch among his few belongings? How often had he smiled? Still, to quell all rising doubts, he rubbed his right thumb on the lock and made a second impression. The daylight was now insufficient, so he turned on the electricity and compared them. Slowly the scars deepened till they were the tint of cedar. Death's hand itself could not have fascinated him more than the dissimilarity of these two thumb prints. He said nothing, but a queer little strangling sound came through his lips.

Who? Where? His heart beat so violently that the veins in his throat swelled and threatened to burst. But he was no weakling. He summoned all his will. He must act and act at once, immediately. Fitzgerald? No, not that clever, killing fool. But who, who? He replaced the papers and the lock. A hidden menace. Question as he would there was never any answer. He practiced the pleasant deceit that the first mark had been given to him. It was not possible that any one had discovered his hiding place. Had he not with his own hands contrived it, alone and without aid, under that accursed mansard roof? Not one of his confederates knew. They had advanced him funds on his word. His other documents they had seen. These had sufficed them. Still back it came with deadly insistence. Some one was digging at the bricks in the chimney. The drama was beginning to move. Had he waited too long?

Mechanically he proceeded to dress for dinner. Since he was to sit at the family table he must fit his dress and manners to the hour. He did not resist the sardonic smile as he put on his fresh patent leathers and his new dinner coat. He recalled Fitzgerald's half-concealed glances of pity the last time they had dined together.

A THOROUGH TEST
One That Will Convince the Most Skeptical Coughs and Colds.

Cures that last are cures that count. Doan's Kidney Pills make thorough cures. The following case is typical. Coughs and colds should be convinced. The testimony is confirmed—the cure lasted.

Proof like this cannot be ignored. Mrs. R. F. Sayer, 549 Walnut street, Coshocton, Ohio, says: "I am glad to say that Doan's Kidney Pills did me more good than any other remedy I ever used. I suffered from kidney trouble and was never without backache. The kidney secretions were disordered and I was subject to dizzy spells and headache. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I obtained them at Siegrist & Williams' drug store, and they made me feel better almost immediately. The contents of the boxes disposed of my trouble. My health is now good." (Statement given Aug. 27, 1906.)

RE-ENDORSEMENT
When Mrs. Sayer was interviewed on Nov. 2, 1911, she said: "There is no better kidney remedy than Doan's Kidney Pills. I am pleased to confirm the public statement I gave in 1906 recommending them."

Oil and Gas News

Work in Ohio Oil Fields

Has Been Unusually

Active.

It has been many weeks since the shallow, sand territory in Southeastern Ohio has furnished anything better than light pumpers. In the Chester Hill district, Penn township, Morgan county, J. B. Hagler has one that is different at No. 8 on the A. L. Burkholder farm. The well has been drilled through the Cow Run sand and is good for 50 barrels a day.

In the Woodsfield district, Center township, Monroe county, the Carter Oil Co. has drilled its test on the Jno. Windland farm through the Berea grit and has a duster. In the Payne district, Lawrence township, Washington county, the Barden Oil Co. & Dupey Bros. have drilled their second test on the William Huntsman farm through the Keener sand and have a very light pumper.

In Loudon township, Carroll county, W. C. Kennedy & Co. are drilling a wildcat on the Sarah Thompson farm. Carroll county has not presented a new pool since the discovery of the Kilgore pool, two years ago, located in the southeastern corner of the county.

In Howell township, Licking county, the Columbus Gas & Fuel Co.'s No. 1 on the C. E. McCracken farm has stopped flowing on account of sand running in. It will be cleaned out and put to pumping. It was drilled in last September and started at better than 100 barrels a day. No. 2 on this farm was completed a month ago and is holding up at 40 barrels a day.

J. H. Everett & Co.'s test on the Amos Crowner farm, located 1.00 feet north of No. 1 McCracken and the Columbus Gas & Fuel Co.'s test on the Rudolph Eden farm, located two miles southeast of No. 1 McCracken, are both past due in the sand but have been delayed on account of the cold weather.

In Licking township, the Logan Natural Gas & Fuel Co. is drilling in the sand at a test on the William Good farm, and the Columbus Natural Gas Co. is in the sand at a test on the Cora Swisher farm. In the same township, the Ohio Electric Railway Co. has the rig completed for a test on the John W. Ennier farm.

In Washington township, in the gas district, the Columbus Gas & Fuel Co. is fishing at No. 3 on the A. J. Wilson farm, in the same locality. J. H. Everett & Co. are drilling a test on the D. M. Harris farm. The same company's test on the Eugene Harris lot No. 3, came in a good gasser in the Big Lime, but was soon exhausted.

MORE TROOPS SENT TO AWE STRIKERS

Lawrence, Mass., Now Resembles Armed Camp.

Lawrence, Mass., Jan. 16.—As the result of the turbulent actions on the part of the woolen operatives, who are now on strike to the number of 15,000, this city is almost an armed camp, martial law having been declared in factory districts. Practically all the mills in the city are shut down because of a lack of sufficient help, and there are now more than 500 militiamen under arms. Five additional companies having been sent here by Adjutant General Pearson when Mayor Scanlon appealed to Governor Foss.

Police Commissioner Lynch passed out word that there would be shooting to kill if the strikers continued their tactics.

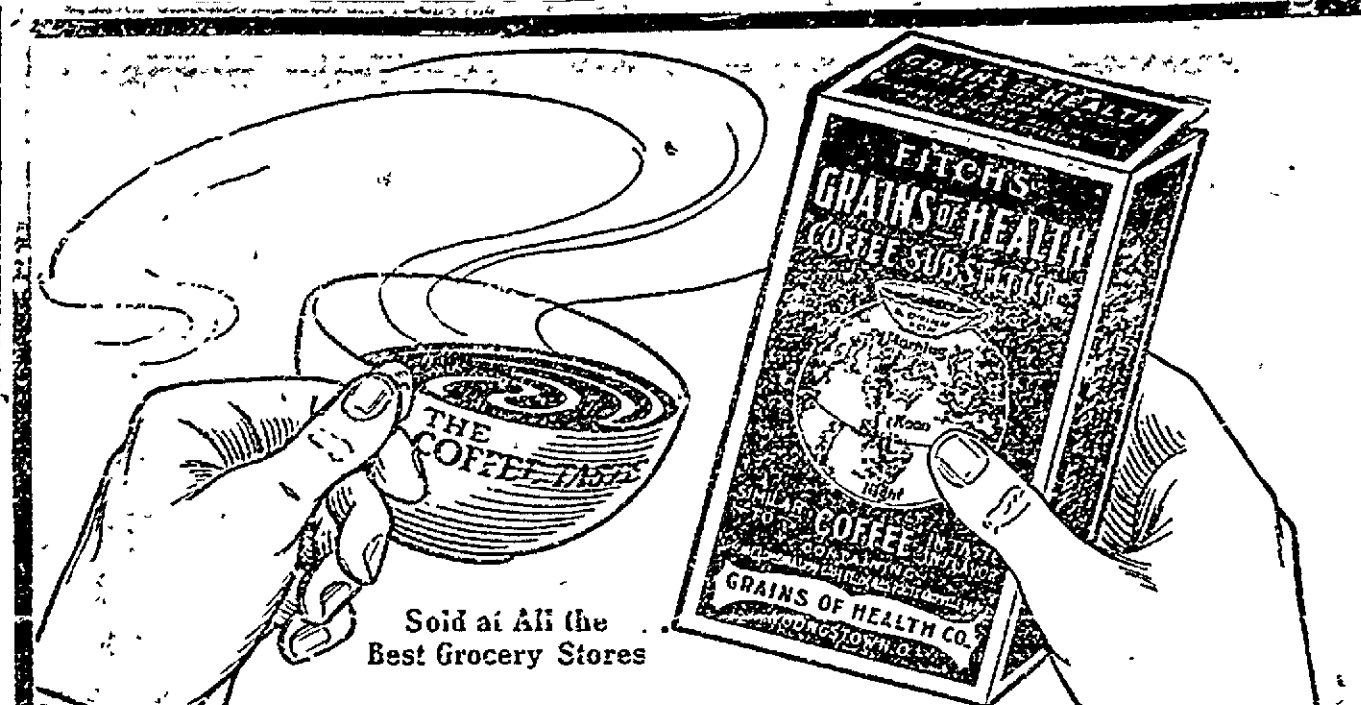

At a conference with Mayor Scanlon, Joseph J. Etter of New York declared the strikers demand an increase of 15 per cent in wages, the abolition of the premium system and double pay for all overtime work.

These demands are something new, as the strike was started as a protest against not being paid for 56 hours' work although labor for but 54 hours was performed, in consequence of the new law.

Bayonets Used Freely.
Bayonets were used when two local companies of infantry and a battery of artillery that had been waiting in the armory were called on because the rioters refused to beavred by bullets fired over their heads by policemen and had responded in kind. Only one person was seriously injured in the clash. This was a Syrian boy, who received a bayonet thrust in the side and may not survive.

There was an attack made upon the Champion paper mills, one of the International Paper company plants, by strikers from the woolen mills. Several gates were broken down and windows smashed before the rioters were dispersed. It appears to be the aim of the strikers to induce, either by force or otherwise, every man employed here to go out. About 30,000 people are practically idle now.

American Fired Upon.
Teheran, Jan. 16.—Bruce, the American officer ofgendarmes, was fired on while going from the barracks to his home. The man who fired the shot was concealed and got away.

TWO INJURED IN A BAD RUNAWAY

Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lopley of Spring Mountain were injured when their team of horses which were hitched to a bobbed in which they were riding ran away. The horses became frightened at an object in the road near the Fritz home and upset the sled throwing the occupants over an embankment. Mrs. Lopley received a broken arm while Mr. Lopley had a leg broken just above the knee. Dr. Lopley of Blissfield was called and gave medical attention. Tuesday morning

Mr. and Mrs. Lopley were resting as well as could be expected.

Coughs and Colds are due to germ action on congested linings of the head, throat or lungs, but can be immediately prevented and relieved by HOLLISTER'S ROCKY MOUNTAIN TEA. Most marvelous medicine of the day. Don't put off—try it now. 35c. C. E. Anderson.

Miss Carrie Mayer of Columbus who has been spending the last three weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Rose on North Sixth-st., returned to her home Sunday noon.

What's The Matter With Your Baby?

The young mother—and many an old one, too—is often puzzled to know the cause of her child's ill nature. The loudness of its crying does not necessarily indicate the seriousness of its trouble. It may have nothing more the matter with it than a headache or a feeling of general dullness. It cannot, of course, describe its feelings, but as a preliminary measure you are safe in trying a mild laxative.

Nine times out of ten, you will find it is all the child needs, for its restlessness and peevishness are perhaps due to obstruction of the bowels, and once that has been remedied the headache, the sluggishness and the many other evidences of constipation and indigestion will quickly disappear.

Don't give the little one salts, cathartic pills or nasty waters, for these will not as purgatives, and they are too strong for a child. In the families of Mrs. M. A. Wisner, West Unity, Ohio, and Mrs. Herman Wilson, Stoutsville, Ohio, the only laxative given is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It has been found to answer most perfectly all the purposes of a laxative, and its very mildness and freedom from griping recommend it especially for the use of children, women, and old folks generally—people who need a gentle bowel stimulant. Thousands of American families have been enthusiastic about it for more than a quarter of a century.

Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a large bottle (four or five) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 465 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

A Trick Worth Trying.
Provide yourself with a ladder, which you place upon the ground. Climb to the top of the ladder and then pull it slowly up toward you, stepping downward upon the rungs until you reach the bottom of it. Mount to the top again and repeat the process, thus raising the ladder each time while you descend to the lowest rung, and continuing alternately to ascend and descend until you have passed out of sight. Come down in the same manner, and to give an extra touch of mystery to the feat on reaching the ground defly palm the ladder. This trick never fails to awaken the audience to the greatest applause.—Chicago Post.

Elected Manager of High
Hight School Athletics
For Coming Year

At a meeting of the C. H. S. A. last evening George Seerest was elected to the position of manager for the 1912 year. The only other candidate in the field was Donley, who could not accept the position owing to the fact that he is a present manager of the basketball team and the custom of electing an upper classman always prevails.

Manager Bretzius read a report of the finances for the past season which was approved by the members of the association. The balance of the money in the treasury will be used to purchase suits for the team for next year.

Nothing so sure and safe for all throat and lung troubles. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by C. E. Anderson and C. W. Ferguson, Roscoe.

3000 Tons of Ice Taken at Adams Mills

It is 13 Inches Thick and as Clear as Crystal—Rail-Company Completes Enormous Harvest This Week

The biggest ice harvest in years, is being reaped along the Ohio canal and basins. Supt. Geidel of the canal system went to Navarre and Bolivar Tuesday to look after the ice cutting going on there. He was at Port Washington and Dover yesterday. "The ice is unusually thick" said he. "At Port Washington they were getting 11-inch ice, and down at Adams Mills the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. is harvesting 12 and 14 inch ice. That is their one complaint—the ice is too thick. They like about an 8-inch ice which fits their coolers nicely. This way it has to be cut down and split. "The ice is clear as crystal. The Pennsylvania Co. expects to have its houses filled to the roof by Wednesday night and will then have to stop because of lack of enough storage room. They will have harvested about 400 cars of ice—the biggest harvest taken from local waters for many years."

DOCTOR COOK MAKES CHARGES AGAINST PEARY

Declaring It Necessary in Order to Reveal Mr. Peary's True Character, Dr. Cook Charges His Rival Claimant to the Discovery of the Pole With Actions Which, He Declares, Demand a Governmental Investigation.

It has remained for Dr. Frederick A. Cook, himself to make the most sensational charges of the entire Polar controversy. Declaring that he left this country at the height of the pro-Peary campaign against him, because of a nervous and physical breakdown, and because of a desire to rest and gain time to marshal the proofs of his Polar claim, and to secure evidences exposing dishonest and fraudulent methods in the campaign against him, Dr. Cook who will lecture here on Jan. 25 now finally comes back with startling charges against Mr. Peary. In making these charges Dr. Cook professes regret that he is compelled to reveal "the unwritten pages of Arctic history" which concern his rival. "Mention is made in my lecture of certain facts concerning Mr. Peary," says Dr. Cook, "because only by knowing these things, can people understand the spirit and character of the man, and the unscrupulous attacks made upon me, and understand, also, why, out of a sense of delicacy and a dislike of mud-slinging, I remained silent so long. "The weaving of the leopards blanket of infancy with which Peary and his supporters attempted to cover me cannot be understood unless we look through Peary's eyes—regard other explorers as he regarded them; regard the North as his inalienable property as he did, and regard his infamous, high-handed injustices as right. "I have now decided to uncover the incentive of this one-sided fight to which I have so long maintained a non-attacking attitude. "Now that the storm has spent its force; now that the hand which did the mudslinging has within its grasp the unearned gain which it sought; now that a clear point of observation can be maintained and distance, to reveal the unpleasant and unknown past of the man who tried to ruin me; showing how unscrupulous and brutal he was to others before me; with evidence in hand, I shall reveal how he wove his web of defamation and how his friends conspired with him in the darkest, meanest and most brazen conspiracy in the history of exploration. "In doing this, my aim is not to challenge Mr. Peary's Polar claim, but to throw light on unwritten pages of history, which pages, I believe, the key to unlock the long closed door of the Polar controversy and the pro-Peary conspiracy. Look and see if it is yours, if so, bring the paper to The Daily Age office sometime tomorrow and you will be given two of the best seats in the house for Wednesday night's production. Every day this week the same way. It's just like finding money. There are two names printed tonight. They are taken at random from the city directory, and its a pinch they are readers of The Age for everybody in town reads The Age every day. Look sharp; maybe it's yours.

Consumptives Helped by Tuberculosis Medicine

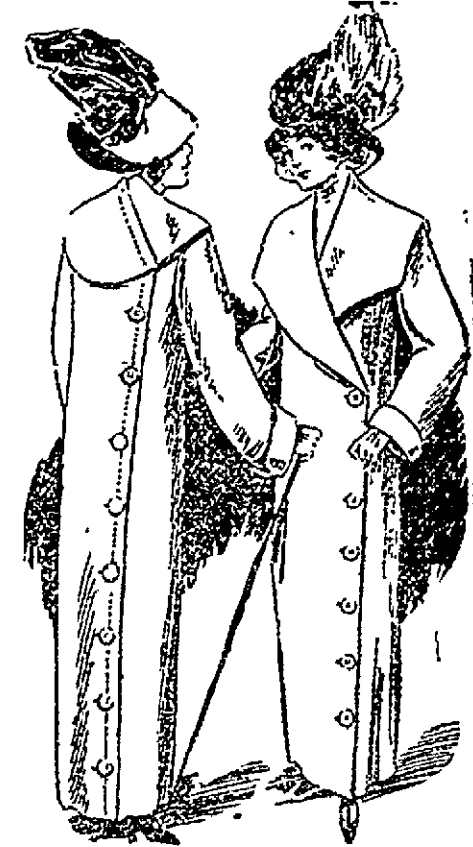

It is folly to believe that Consumption differs from every other disease in not requiring the use of any specific medicine for its cure. The trouble has been that some were known until the many cures effected by Lickman's Alternative began to be known. Now, for ten years, all enormous mass of voluntary and thankful testimonials from persons who consider that they owe their lives to this remedy have been accumulating. Simply plenty of time to demonstrate its lasting value. You can write to any of them, there is one at 622 Third Ave., Philadelphia, Pa. "Gentlemen: In the winter of 1904 I had a attack of Grippe, followed by Pneumonia, and later by Consumption. I grew steadily worse. In the winter of 1904 I had cough, night sweats, fever and raised quantities of awful looking stuff and later I had many hemorrhages; at one time, three in three successive days. Milk and eggs became so distasteful I could keep nothing down. Three physicians treated me. I was ordered to the mountains but did not go. Lickman's Alternative was recommended by a friend. After taking a small quantity I had the first quiet night's sleep for weeks. My improvement was marked from the first. I gained strength and weight and appetite. I never had another hemorrhage and my cough gradually lessened until, one day I saw here can be verified by my family and friends. Lickman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Trouble, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit forming drugs. Ask for booklet of cured cases and write to Lickman's Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for more evidence. For sale by all leading druggists and C. E. Anderson in Coshocton, Ohio. Tell it to The Age reporter.

THE FEBRUARY ST. NICHOLAS

Among the good things in the February St. Nicholas is the beginning of a new serial by Emile Benson Knipe and Arthur Alden Knipe. It is called "The Lucky Sixpence," and the heroine is a dear little English lass, who is heartlessly shipped off to the colonies, where the later scenes of the story are to be set. The authors are careful and enthusiastic students of our early history, and it is promised that young readers who follow the tale will meet Washington, Franklin, and other notables of colonial days. Another interesting feature of this February issue is "The Story of Panama," by Farnham Bishop, giving much worth while detail of the history of the isthmus, the work on the canal, past and present, and the results to be accomplished.

Must Work For Lodgings.
Upper Sandusky, O., Jan. 16.—Upper Sandusky is to have, each night of the winter, a tramp fire department. Heretofore it has been the custom to give shelter in the city prison to all persons applying there during unfavorable weather. These sleepers number from six to 20 each night. Cleanliness not being one of their characteristics, their continual habitation of the city prison made the small room a most unsanitary place. So it was decided to heat the large room of the city building, used as a room for the fire-fighting apparatus, and give them lodging there in return for which they will be expected to assist the local department in fighting fires.

Wreck Victims May Die.
Kenton, O., Jan. 16.—Of the 32 passengers and trainmen injured in the wreck of the Detroit-Cincinnati flyer on the Big Four railroad, three are said to have small chance for recovery. W. H. Haskin of Detroit, C. E. Kelly of Ann Arbor, Mich., and John Moonstock, a Hungarian, in a local hospital, are probably fatally injured.

Poison Theory Exploded.
Columbus, O., Jan. 16.—The report of Chemist O. S. Mackworth, stating that no arsenic was contained in the pancake flour which was thought to have poisoned Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Boerstler at Lancaster, blasted the theory held by counsel for Mrs. Nancy Hall, accused of poisoning her daughter Ruth, 12, that both sacks of flour could have contained the poison before they were bought. The same brand of flour was used by both families.

Nap Fatal to Woman.
Athens, O., Jan. 16.—While Mrs. John Beggs, 25, was sitting before a fire nursing her 13 months old baby, she fell asleep and sparks from the grate ignited her clothing. The baby escaped injury, but the woman was so badly burned that she died in a few hours.

Lancaster Buildings Burn.
Lancaster, O., Jan. 16.—A fire that originated in the vicinity of some stoves in the middle of the Martin Hardware company's building, caused a fire whose damage is easily $50,000. Both the Martin store and that of the Stropel Furniture company adjoining are total losses.

Crushed Under Train.
Zanesville, O., Jan. 16.—Ralph Grandstaff, 17, an apprentice at the Baltimore & Ohio shops, was ground to pieces in the local yards when he slipped and fell in front of a yard engine.

Mongolians Seize Khailaro.
St. Petersburg, Jan. 16.—A dispatch from Harbin says that the Mongolians have seized Khailaro, a town in northern Manchuria.
